I offer my prayers and deepest sympathy to Mrs Andrew Valentine and family. I believe no one is ever lost as long as you hold them in your memory. Andy was the first person I met when I moved into 450. He made me feel welcomed. My apartment felt like a new home. He listed each doorman's name and shift with his and Hector's names appearing first on the list. Andy greeted me and every resident each day with a smile, an update on his family and their successes. Andy provided invitations to shows curated by his brother. He was so proud of his family he talked about them with anyone who would listen. I know that all the residents here will feel the pain of his absence. We share in your grief and pray memories will comfort you.
