

Annie Delores Hinton

February 16, 1948 - May 2, 2016

Annie was born in Birmingham Alabama to Rev. Jodie Jones Sr. and Clara Bryant Jones.

She studied at Wenonah Elementary.

Annie moved to New York City worked as a waitress at Chock Full Nuts coffee shop in 1965.

She met Herman Hermes Hinton at her place of work. They later married April 26, 1969.

She loved sports- baseball, basketball, football, golf, and tennis. A true and faithful New York fan of the Mets, Knicks, and Giants. She was glued to the TV whenever these teams played. Games show were also her thing as well- Jeopardy, Wheel of Fortune, and Price is Right. Let's not forget her Christmas movies either- the only movies she'll ever watch.

She attended True Worship church as an usher and then as a mother of the church.

Annie was an angel in her own right. She always had a smile on her face.

Everyone she encountered was drawn to her warm spirit and positive energy.

Although she had subdued personality there was inner firecracker that shined through.

Annie is survived by her sister and brother-in-law Juanita Edwards, Mitchell Edwards; brother and sister-in-law Rev Charles E. Jones and Jessie Jones; sister Janice Arrington. 4 daughters: Karen Randall, Pamela Joyce Delpesh, Beverly Delores Hinton, and Cynthia Hinton. 7 grandchildren Jeremiah Lyndell Randall, Ronde Josiah Randall, Jasmine Diamond Delpesh, Aaron Delpesh, Tislam Malik Dupont, , Terrell Dupont, Jemel Dupont. Host of nieces and nephews, sister and brother in law, cousins, aunts, uncles, and friends.
