“ Ayyyy my Titi... When did we ever talk and we didnt laugh? We would laugh everytime we spoke. I will truly miss you so much my Titi. I love you so much and will always love you. I know you're in heaven with my father having long conversations just like the good old times, laughing and reminiscing about the past. I will always remember you were the one who chose my name at birth and I thank you for it. People always ask me where did my came com from. I would always proudly say "My aunt named me."

“ Mrs Gomez,

Words cannot express how much you will truly be missed. You were truly one of a kind! You opened your home to me and never once asked why are you here?. You changed my name and at first I thought you couldn't pronounce it but then one day I said "Ms Gomez My name is Fontona "and you said " I know what you're name is but i call you Ranona!" I loved it because I felt special , like a nickname was given to me by a family member. You embodied a feminine stature that I've never saw before. Strong , confident , and you didn't accept anything but the best! Thank you for showing me that ! I want you to know that I love you and always will. I thank you for giving birth to my best friend the sweetest person in the world! You did well your daughters are beautiful women. Love you Mrs Gomez I will miss you but I will never ever forget you! 🥹

“ Ms Gomez,

Words cannot express the hurt that I feel right now. You have captured my heart in a way I can't describe. You opened your door for me and accepted me like family and never once question why are you here ? or made me feel uncomfortable in your home. There will never be a woman like you! Your honesty and sense of stature instilled in me the importance of how a woman should project herself in this world. You mad me laugh because you called it like you saw it and you didn't care who was around. I truly loved you and wished that I called you more if only to say hi. Thank you so much for blessing me with my best friend. You gave birth to one of the sweetest person I'll ever know . I love you, I will miss you, thank god for me for letting me have the pleasure of knowing you! Xoxo Ranona! 🥺

“ Mrs. Gomez was like a mother to me she helped raise me into the woman I am today. She opened her home to me, fed me and made sure I was safe..she showed me how to be a young by introducing me to feminine hygiene products and explaining why it was important...although I don't know Spanish for some reason when she spoke I understood what she was saying...lol I will truly miss her..I had two mom's and they both are in heaven and now my third mom will join them...I have another angel by my side...I am sending my deepest condolences to the entire family..love always cheewanna..lol
