

Frances Elvira Weeks

February 3, 1945 - November 14, 2009

Frances Elvira Weeks arrived on planet Earth on February 3, 1945, the last and youngest gift to Timothy Alexander Nathaniel Weeks of Barbados BWI and Louise Elizabeth Davis Jackson Wise of Orangeburg, SC, USA.

Educated in Brooklyn, NY and selected to be amongst the first African American students to attend Erasmus Hall High School, I left Erasmus an advocate for public speaking, and wound up in Clara Barton High School. I graduated from Clara Barton with honors in English, and from my youth through my adult life, I enjoyed and was honored for motivational and inspirational speaking.

My Civil Fights activities of marching, freedom riding, protesting, voter registration, grass-roots style community organization, and loving my fellow humankind enough to go out on the line for any cause worth fighting for
