

Mildred McClean

July 6, 1932 - June 15, 2016

MILDRED L. MCCLEAN, age 83, died at Brooklyn Hospital, Brooklyn, New York on June 15, 2016 following a ten week courageous battle against an aggressive and devastating infection.

She was born in Burkeville, Virginia on July 6, 1932 to Anna G., and Mallory Miller, the sixth of nine siblings. At an early age she was baptized at Macedonia Baptist Church.

At the age of 18 she migrated to New York City. In January of 1950 she met Keith H. McClean, and married on December 14, 1952 at St. Augustin Episcopal Church. Keith Jr., was born in July of 1953.

In 1959, she began working for the New York City Board of Education where she remained until retirement in 1998. During this period, while raising a family, she functioned as a school administrator, and an union representative, receiving her Associates degree from Cornell University.

She traveled the world with her husband of 60 years, enjoyed the company of her family, friends and co-workers.

She is survived by her son, Keith McClean Jr., and son Larry Miller and wife Marsha, grandchildren, great grandchildren, brothers and sisters, nieces, nephews and a host of in-laws.

“ Moms has been a positive force in my life since my high school days. Larry brought me home and introduced me to her, Keith Sr and Keith Jr. Moms treated the same stating that I will follow the rules just like the others. I received guidance, wisdom and love. I felt as if she was my other mother especially after my Mom passed. I miss her now and will always miss her. Moms will always be in my mind. She is now at peace with God and her favorite Guy (Mr Mc). God Bless you Moms.
