

Rachel Patricia Brown

January 30, 1952 - March 19, 2024

Rachel Patricia Brown was born on January 30, 1952, to her parents Charles Brown and Essie Mae Mosely Brown, in Brooklyn, New York.

Rachel, also called “Trisha” by her close family and friends, was born in the Canarsie section of Brooklyn, New York. She was raised in Brooklyn and received her primary school education from the New York City school system. She attended City College in Manhattan and was a retiree from New York City Human Resources Administration where she served for 30 years as a Litigation Supervisor. Rachel was previously married to Reginald Anthony Morrissey (CL) and Cornell Parham. From these unions Rachel had two daughters – Misheema Morrissey and Shvasia Parham.

Rachel was a highly intelligent, analytical, and critical thinking woman. She was well versed and knowledgeable in areas ranging from business and governmental practices to legal standards across many areas and was always abreast on current events of the day - particularly politics, both domestic and international. Rachel was a “go-to” person for her friends and family. She was definitely a dependable resource to many. She gave great advice and always with a twist of humor. Rachel was a stylish “fashionista”. She enjoyed dressing in designer fashion and was not afraid to be different in her style of dress and was willing to wear attire that set her apart from the rest. Smart, funny, reliable, loving, and giving. This was Rachel Brown.

Rachel was a baptized Jehovah's Witness. She lived and died acknowledging Jehovah God as the one true God. She enjoyed reading and analyzing bible verses and applying bible prophecy to the events of the day.

Our beloved Rachel is survived by her daughters Misheema Morrissey of Wendell, NC and Shvasia Parham of Brooklyn, NY, her granddaughter Kristian Tamara Morrissey, her grandson Derrick V. Sutton, Jr., her great-grandson Nasier K. Sutton, two "sons-in-love" - Derrick Sutton, Sr., and Rodney Joseph. She also leaves to mourn her siblings - sisters Essie Pearl Harpe and Elosie Barclay, brother Charles Brown, and several nieces, nephews, cousins, and of course friends.

“ Praying God's love comforts you through this difficult time. No words could ease what we feel. But with God her joy is eternally sealed. And cherish her memories that death can't even steal. My condolences.

“ Dear Mommy,

You are missed so much already. You were such a one of a kind person. Funny, smart, lovable, and much more. It's natural for me to feel you were taken too soon, but I also have faith in God's plan for all of our lives. Rest in Peace. Watch over me please.

Love always and forever,
Misheema

My deepest condolences go out to you and your family during this time. Take comfort in knowing that Mom is resting in GOD'S arms. Cherish the fond memories you shared with Mom during her days on this earth and it shall get you through each day. I'm here for you each and every day for listening and encouragement to help you get through what may be going through in the days ahead. May the spirit of GOD rest upon you.

*Love,
