“ What a sad day that has come, that I won't be able to see my Uncle Raymond. No one worried more than I did, when I was just a child why you just slept, and slept, so much, and I just wanted to play, and see your face before I went home. Little did I know how hard you worked throughout the years. Your body grew tired, and you did the best you could. My dearest uncle, it is okay for you to rest now, because I now understand. I will miss your soft loving smile, and my fondest memories of you will remain in my heart! Your loving niece, Nancy, and Family

“ I am not ashamed to say, that Raymond was my life long crush 😊 ...even though he was my cousins husband and way older than me, he was the man 😊! He had a swagger and personality that drew you instantly to him!.When I was a child, if you asked me who I wanted to marry, I would have said Raymond. I am sad that you are gone, but know you are in a better place, up there playing cards, with Nana, Ma, Mama Sallie, Anne and Bee.Family...I LOVE YOU!...SIP Raymond ❤️❤️

“ Good Morning Honey,

I have been having memories of our 51 years of marriage. You chose "Honey" for our greetings to each other. You also chose "Forever" for our song, often reminding me that we married and we will stay married until the end which is forever. I, of course, was changing song titles, choosing "Always and Forever," " You've Got a Friend" and "I Will Always Love You."

I will miss our biblical discussions with you teaching me what I didn't understand and with me finding little tidbits that you did not know. Initially others thought that we would not make it; we did, and they didn't...I owe it to you... one marriage only...

PaPa you Always kept us laughing. Just thinking of our time in VA brings laughter to my heart because I was blessed to have been apart of it all. You give Eric a Pow Pow from me we both know you owe him one. No ones ever ready to burry a loved one. The body is gone but the memories we have we will cherish forever. Rest In Peace PAPA.

My sincere condolences to Patricia, Chey-Anne, and the rest of your family. From the very beginning of our acquaintance in the 1960s at NYCCC, Raymond was always a pleasure to be around. I know that you will hold on tightly to all the good times you have shared.

May he rest in peace forever.

Love, Cassie
