“ Wayne and I worked an Arena Football game in Baltimore back in 2002, long before his NFL career. Wayne and other crew members provided me with the proper outfit for the game, since I was traveling on business and didn't have any equipment. After contacting Wayne and giving him my sizes, he and the other crew members came up with the equipment for me. I knew back then he was going to be great. He would do this type of service for someone he barely knew. Rest easy my friend!

“ I recently looked up who the "WM" on the hats of NFL referees was honoring, and was so deeply moved by all of the kind words and tributes I read about Wayne. I so wanted to extend my deepest, heartfelt sympathy to everyone fortunate enough to have known and loved this special person. He so obviously meant the world to so many people. I know what a difficult time that was for everyone close. I also know that Christ is with Wayne, and you'll all be together again forever one day. Please press forward using the promise of the future to buoy you, and the good memories of the past to enrich you. And never forget there are so many keeping you and Wayne deep in their hearts and prayers.
